

Wigs & Insurances

At Foxybraids, we understand the importance of providing quality wigs that meet both medical and aesthetic needs. Our goal is to support our clients in accessing cranial prostheses through insurance reimbursement.

What is a Cranial Prosthesis?

A cranial prosthesis is a wig designed for individuals experiencing hair loss due to medical conditions such as alopecia, chemotherapy, or other treatments. Many insurance companies recognize cranial prostheses as a medical necessity and may cover some or all of the costs.

Steps to Obtain Insurance Reimbursement:

1. Prescription: Request a prescription from your doctor that specifies the need for a cranial prosthesis.
2. Invoice: After purchasing your wig, we will provide an itemized invoice with the proper medical codes required for insurance submission.
3. Submit Claim: Contact your insurance provider to confirm their requirements for cranial prosthesis coverage. Submit your claim with the provided documents.

Accepted Insurance Providers:

Coverage varies by provider. Please contact your insurance company to verify coverage details and determine eligibility.
